

Concept Development

Based on client feedback, Glenelg will optimise design detail to address needs. These proposals may be validated in a number of ways, i.e. visuals, models, prototypes, which can be used to conduct qualitative consumer / customer research.

We always work very closely with our clients at this stage to ensure that our design proposals continue to meet commercial constraints and financial goals.

