

Electronics Design

---

Through our contacts we are able to offer a full electronic design service, ranging from Printed Circuit Board design and assembly to full system build.

All electronic work carried out in the development of a product is completed with expert input and conforms to all current regulatory compliance requirements.

From PCB design to full system build